Pet Precautions for St. Paddy's Day

It's time once again for the wearing o' the green, and there are a few things to keep in mind so your festivities are safe for your furry best mate.

Food and drink. The traditional foods associated with St. Patrick's Day tend to be rich, fatty and salty and should be kept for human consumption only.

Remember, never give alcohol to your pet.

Attire. If your pet enjoys going green, choose to do so with clothing, costumes and collars instead of dyes, which can be toxic if ingested or licked off fur.

Celebrations. Your pet may become overwhelmed by the noise and revelry of the holiday. Know your pet's temperament and leave him home if partying St. Paddy's style will be more than he bargained for.

Shamrocks. These traditional symbols of the holiday can be toxic if consumed. Keep them out of reach of your pet.

Go Green on March 17

St. Patrick's Day on March 17 is a time when many people claim kinship with the Emerald Isle and hope for the luck of the Irish. No matter your ancestry, you may be interested in the following facts and figures.

- The first New York City St. Patrick's Day parade occurred in 1762. The current parade lasts five to six hours and is attended by nearly 2 million spectators every year.
- In addition to a parade, Chicago celebrates St. Paddy's Day by turning the Chicago River green. It takes 45 pounds of powdered dye to accomplish the festive feat.
- About 55 percent of people in the U.S. celebrate St. Patrick's Day in some way, spending a total of $5 billion on the holiday.
- An estimated 34 million Americans have Irish ancestry. That's more than seven times the population of Ireland.
- Towns that seem especially suited to celebrate the holiday include Shamrock, Texas; St. Patrick, Mo.; Dublin, Ohio; Ireland, W.Va.; Emerald Isle, N.C.; and Irishtown, Ill.
- Over 650,000 babies born in the U.S. in the last century have been named Patrick. The name means "nobleman."
- Your odds of finding a four-leaf clover are about 1 in 10,000.
- According to legend, when they aren't guarding their pots of gold, leprechauns spend their days making and mending shoes.
